Mrs. A. J. Hammons, Grenada City Schools teacher, received a television set for writing the prize winning essay in the Jitney Jungle contest.

Al Gully, owner, announced last Thursday the names of the ten winners in his contest. Topic of the essays was "Why I Like to Shop in Jitney Jungle."

Mrs. Hammons wrote: "When entering the door at Jitney Jungle, one immediately seems to become a part of it. Everyone from the stock boys to the manager endeavors to help one find what he wants. Not only find what is wanted but make many useful suggestions. In all my years shopping at Jitney Jungle I have found that it is 100 percent behind what it sells. When a person feels at home and believes what he buys is what it was intended to be, shopping becomes a pleasure. This is the service one receives at Grenada's air conditioned Jitney Jungle."

Other winners were: 2nd, Mrs. L. C. Angevine; 3rd, Mrs. N. L. Douglass; 4th, Mrs. John S. Andrews; 5th, Miss Mary Ella Collins; 6th, Mrs. John H. Mitchell; 7th, Mrs. Harry Rayburn; 8th, Mrs. G. S. Kent; 9th, Miss Virginia Pace; and 10th, Mrs. P. R. Daly.

Judges were: T. L. Neese, vice president of Jitney Jungle, Inc.; Jack son; Ray Johnson, Advertising manager, Jitney Jungle, Inc.; Jackson; Earl Bezar, accounting executive of Marks and Neese advertising manager, Jackson.

Holcomb Community Group Meets

The regular monthly meeting of the Holcomb Community Organization was held Friday night, July 5th with 125 people in attendance. The meeting was called to order by Mr. A. L. Jackson, president of the organization. Rev. Norris Corley, pastor of Leflore Baptist Church led the devotional. Mrs. J. E. Little called the roll by families. Minutes of the last meeting were given by Janie Chapman.

Patsy Hammonds led the group in singing. She was accompanied at the piano by Linda Miller. Joy Fite sang a solo. She was accompanied by Mrs. B. L. Moorhead.

Mrs. Jimmie Hill, Vocational agriculture teacher talked on "Jobs to be Done in July." The group then went to Mr. Hill's home for an ice cream supper. Afterwards the group went to the v-a-g. classroom for recreation, led by Barbara Elliott, Donald Skelton and Bervil Elder.

By the way, one nonagerian, Mr. J. H. Horn, was recently dinner host to another nonagerian, Mr. W. B. Rook.

Geeseherd Jim Horn called up Sunday to report that his geese had no place to swim now since Bogue has dried up, but that they were then engaged in drilling an artesian well to fix up a swimming pool for Bet's silly proteges. Bet has a heap of trouble with his hoe hands.

Juchheim is about the smartest fellow about fishing I know. He quit fishing, then stayed quit. I quit about every other day. His boy, Max just keeps on fishing.

The "Walkers", Walking Through Beat Five Last Week

A "walker", if you don't know what we are talking about, is a big contraption used by the contractors in the straightening out, cleaning out and cutting bends in the Yalobusha River in recent months.

The contractors had two "walkers", one a big one and the other bigger.

The big one "walked" out last week. The big one had been engaged primarily in work on the river below Holcomb. The little one had been used above Holcomb, to and thru Grenada.

The path of the big one was from the river near Needle Point to the so-called Whitaker highway, then parallel to (but not on) the Whitaker Highway, to a point about where the Black Hawk Roads turn off, then on this highway (but which had to be widened to accommodate the huge contraption) to Martin Creek, then thru the raw woods, to what used to be called the Tippe Ford, which is north of Alexander Lake on Tippe, thence on a prepared route to Tallahatchie River near Phillip, at which point, it will be loaded on a huge barge and moved out by water.

The path for this big walker was prepared by numerous bulldozers. Largely the path was thru raw wood.

JIM NALL DIES IN ARKANSAS

Buried At Bethel On Tuesday Of This Week

(Written from Memory Only)

Jim Nall, oldest son of the late R. N. Nall and Mrs. Laura Musselwhite Nall, was buried at Bethel near Oxberry, Tuesday of this week.

The elder Mr. Nall died over 50 years ago on the Whitaker place near Oxberry and left his wife with Jim, another son Edgar and a house almost filled with little girls. At an early age, therefore, Jim became the head of the growing household. That the mother was a Musselwhite meant a lot because the Musselwhites at Oxberry have ever been known as hard workers and honest in all matters. Dr. Whitaker, my own father, sorter helped by taking that orphaned family under his wing and got them on their feet and kept them on their feet. He was more or less a foster father to the family and he lived to see all grown I don't mean to say that there was any charity given the family by my father - he just helped them till they got able to help themselves. I am sure they paid papa every nickel he ever advanced them.

Later, Jim moved to Helena, Ark. about 25 years ago, became carpenter, blacksmith and general fixer on the big Goodbar plantation there and wound up as general manager of this plantation, a post he filled until death. Jim was 64 years old.

Jim has three surviving sisters, they are: Mrs. Will O'Bryan, Mrs. Chester Smith and Mrs. R. W. Shepard. Edgar, Nall Jim's brother, died about 25 years ago.

Pallbearers were: Oscar Starn, Herbert Starn, Matt Starn, Little, Junior Harris and Marshall Starn.

The deceased name was C. M. Nall, but he was called Jim all his life.

FARM & HOME WEEK AT STATE COLLEGE

Many Grenada Countians To Attend Meet July 13-16

A very special program is being planned for Farm and Home Week to be held at State College from July 13 to 16 celebrating the 75th anniversary of State College and 50 years of Extension Work.

The State Home Demonstration Council meeting will begin the 14th. Mrs. Annie Tharpe of Grenada H.D. Club will be Grenada County's voting delegate. Mrs. G. E. Chamberlain of Gore Springs Club will attend. Highlights of Wednesday's program will be a speech by Sen. John C. Stennis.

Evening program will be the Cotton Style Revue at Lee Auditorium at 7:30. Mrs. John Murchison, Mrs. Fred Clark, Mrs. W. E. Raper and Mrs. Charles Mangum and daughter will represent Grenada County in this event. This will be followed by the Farm and Home Week party with a square dance at the stadium and a social dance at the college cafeteria.

The Home Demonstration Council is sending one bus for the convenience of HD Club members. Those attending the Wednesday activities will be:

Mesdames Mike McClamroch, Bob Bienz, L. R. Sanders, Joe Ward, T. A. Ligon, John McCormick, Manley Dubois, Ruby Mims, Geo. Hollingsworth, Rease Houston, R. V. Griffin, J. C. Calk, Ivy Criss, Guy Smith, Fred Clark, John Murchison, T. P. Pulliam, Bill Tatum, A. N. Rayburn and Ward Bosher.

I was just thinking how kind the Horns are to their aged father, Mr. J. H. Horn. That's the way children should be to their parents but don't in many families.

Folks are wondering how long the fine painting job given Hamby's Fish Station by Morman and Willie Gray will survive footprints, handprints and so forth.

Grenadians have their hopes pinned on Donna Jean Sharp to win the Miss Hospitality crown at the state wide contest in Biloxi Saturday, July 16.

But win, lose or draw the lovely daughter of Postmaster and Mrs. Donald Sharp is sure to have a good time because many enjoyable parties, luncheons and dances have been planned for all the contestants.

She will register at the Robert E. Lee Hotel at noon, Tuesday, followed by a lunch there given by the Jackson Hotel Association. Modeling instructions will occupy much of the afternoon. A swimming party and buffet supper at the Jackson Country Club will complete the day's activities.

Wednesday, judging of the girls in street dresses will take place, followed by a luncheon given by the Keweenaw Club. Modeling instructions will take place that afternoon. At 7:30 p. m. a formal dance will be given on the Heidelberg roof by the manager.

Thursday, they leave for the Gulf Coast, stopping in mid morning at Lake Shelby near Hattiesburg. That afternoon at 1:45 they will be guests at a swim food luncheon at the Buena Vista. Judging of the girls in swimming suits follows. They will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Walters at a swimming party (shower) on super and shore dance at the Gulf Hills. Day's Banquet.

Christian's Code

Lesson for July 12, 1953

THE Christian is not "under law," as Paul says, but "under grace." This does not mean that a Christian can live as he pleases, any old way good or bad. There is a code of behavior for Christians. Only the Christian's code is not like a city's laws or the rules of a game. The nearest thing we have to a code is certain great principles of behavior, the foundation-lines for our house of life. One of the most familiar chapters of the whole Bible is Romans 12, where Paul sets down in pretty plain words what kind of behavior may be expected of a Christian. The passage is so familiar, in fact, that it can too easily be read with the eyes only and not with the mind. So this column will depart from its usual method, and simply present, for the most part, some of the important sentences or phrases from this classic chapter, first in the old King James translation and then in various other more recent ones in English. They will be numbered as follows:

- 1 King James translation (1611 A. D.)
- 2 Revised Standard Version (1946)
- 3 Moffatt's translation (1922)
- 4 American Translation (1923)
- 5 Weymouth's (1930)
- 6 Phillips's (1947) ("Letters to Young Churches")

(Where a number does not appear, it is because that version is not notably different from some of the others.) These translations will perhaps suggest to the thoughtful reader that there is more in Scripture than any one translation can fully bring out.

1. Present your bodies a living sacrifice . . . your reasonable service. 2.—your spiritual worship. 4.—your rational worship. 6.—an act of intelligent worship. (verse 1)

1. Be not conformed to this world. 4. You must not adopt the customs of this world. 6. Don't let the world around you squeeze you into its own mould. (verse 2)

1. Let love be without dissimulation. 2. Let love be genuine. 3. Let your love be a real thing. 5. Let your love be sincere. 6. Let us have no imitation Christian love. (verse 9)

1. Abhor that which is evil; cleave to that which is good. 2. Hate what is evil; hold fast to what is good. 3.—with a loathing for evil and a bent for what is good. 4. You must hate what is wrong, and hold to what is right. 5. Regard evil with horror; cling to the right. 6. Let us have a genuine break with evil and a real devotion to good. (verse 9)

1. Be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love; in honor preferring one another. 2. Love one another with brotherly affection; outdo one another in showing honor. 3. Put affection into your love for the brotherhood. . . . 5. Let your love of the brethren be true mutual affection. 6. Let us have real warm affection for one another as between brothers, and a willingness to let the other man have the credit. (verse 10)

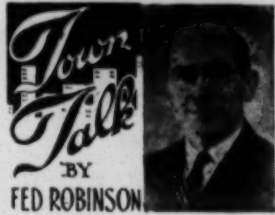

1. Not slothful in business; fervent in spirit . . . 2. Never flag in zeal, be aglow with the Spirit. 3. Never let your zeal flag; maintain the spiritual glow . . . 4. Not wanting in devotion, but on fire with the Spirit. 6. Let us not allow slackness to spoil our work and let us keep the fires of the spirit burning. (verse 11)

1. Rejoicing in hope; patient in tribulation; continuing instant in prayer. 2.—be constant in prayer. 3. Let your hope be a joy to you; be steadfast in trouble, attend to prayer. 4. Be happy in your hope . . . 5.—full of joyful hope, patient under affliction, persistent in prayer. 6. Base your happiness on your hope in Christ. When trials come endure them patiently; steadfastly maintain the habit of prayer. (verse 12)

1. Dearly beloved, avenge not yourselves, but rather give place unto wrath. 2. Beloved, never avenge yourselves, but leave it to the wrath of God. 4. Do not take your revenge, dear friends, but leave room for God's anger. 6. Never take vengeance into your own hands, my dear friends; stand back and let God punish if he will. (verse 19)

You can see that the "code of the Christian" simply is the way Jesus lived!

I have often heard and always believed that men can do whatever they can dream. Here is some important words - words that make one think - and although a firm by the name of Warner & Swasey who manufactures precision tools in Cleveland, Ohio paid their good money to say this to the American people in a recent magazine ad, we are afraid some of you may have missed it. "What would happen if all Americans suddenly decided to cooperate with all other Americans - instead of attacking, suspecting, hating? What if managers invested in new machines, workers used those machines efficiently, managers shared the income from the machines with workers in wages, with consumers in lower prices, with owners in better profits? And what if government encouraged such investment by lower taxes made possible by the same efficiency in government as the new efficiency in factories? - Sounds so simple - and it is. Yet it would usher in the greatest period of prosperity and security that America ever saw or dreamed of. And it's the only way we can have lasting prosperity instead of the false boom we have had of inflation, destroyed savings, destructive top-heavy debt. Where is the American statesman - labor, business or government statesman - who believes enough in his country and in truth to preach that simple gospel? What an opportunity for greatness!"

Well, we think that is a sensible formula but we know men will never follow it. E. W. Howe writes: "A fair consideration of history indicates that it was hatred of industrious men that inspired every destruction of human progress in the past. It was shiftless barbarians warning themselves at campfires who looked with hate on beautiful Athens, created by industrious men, and destroyed art that has never been equalled and never will." Perhaps some day men will get tired of fighting one another on battle fields and in the world of trade and commerce and learn the great lesson of brotherhood, and that God is the owner of all there is and that we are stewards of it for a little while and that one day He will call on us to account for our stewardship. May He find us holding only that which is ours.

Last Sunday we stood in a long line waiting to be served our Sunday luncheon at a busy downtown cafeteria. There were several hundred people in the place anxiously pushing around in the uncomfortable heat wanting to be served. What noise! Some were greeting friends loudly, others were standing around friends tables chatting and the help were shuffling the dishes hastily and all that made a dine of noise and confusion most unpalatable, much less enjoyable. I couldn't help but remember the Sunday dinners we used to have at our country home back yonder in other years, when we placed the long home built table out on the porch and as it was loaded down with nourishing food, one or two of us would stand along side the table and fan away the flies if any, and keep the diners cooled while they ate. But best of all as compared with the noisy eating places of today, we were quiet and composed, in fact reverent because our father insisted upon perfect decorum around the feasting board. I think if some of those old fashioned people would come back and enter some of the modern eating places where the juke box screams some low moaning jazz and dishes are noisily shuffled about amidst laughter and hilarity, they would think the whole world had gone stark crazy. Which of course it has. No wonder so many people have to nurse stomach ulcers. Any doctor will tell you that eating is a serious business and not only what you eat but when and how you eat it and under what environment has much to do in making food delectable and digestible. - very softly - "pass the biscuits, pappy, please!"

I spent about 18 months keeping my mouth shut about the box business, and in the meantime, keeping any reference to it out of the GCW. Now, since the matter has been settled out of court, I caught a little hell about NOT saying anything. Thus is the life of a country newspaperman. Hell, if you do; hell if you don't.

Penciled in red was the admonition to the postman, "Hurry; it is on the 5th", on an air mail birthday greeting received on the 4th from my friends, the Pecks in New York.

I don't know whether Daves, the fisherman, had a good time for the past ten days, but he has been on a vacation from Stoker's Jewelry store. I do know that his friends had busted up and lost a lotta tackle for him before he left.

One of the most unrealistic fisherman-combinations I have yet heard of was that of Bob Hall, Bob Price and Daves, who went to fishing together Friday. What they have in common I just don't know.

One of our Oxberry hands, Scott Davis, who was paddling the boat for Andrew and me, was wondering just why white folks fished so hard, yet gave away the fish they caught. Like many colored folks, Scott works hard to catch fish to get something to eat. Sport don't enter into any of his calculations.

Johnnie Golliday, erstwhile paddler for Andrew and me, has been hard to find and get this season. Johnnie always has "something else to do." The City is just working Johnnie too hard.

The GCW appreciates a nice postal card from Milt & Patty Percival and kids. They are living like rich folks 'way up in camp in Ontario.

I saw old Wallace Sherwood fishing in Black Hawk the other day, but young Wallace must have been working on one of those fine church articles, he is getting famous for.

The local "law" seems to have eased up a little on the colored folks.

"The News", put out by the Mississippi Power & Light Company employees, is, as its name indicates, by, for and about the employees of this fine company, and is most interesting.

High Pockets, off in Pennsylvania Monday, was having his regular work of collecting nickles & pennies done by Vaughn.

Other news from police headquarters: 3-star Crumby has been elected head of the local American Legion post.

I intended to visit with the supervisors at their regular meeting Monday, but they don't have air-conditioning in their meeting room, YET.

 MAINTAINED BY COUNTY

This is a picture of the State Highway System in Grenada County. The map is provided by Commissioner Roy C. Adams as part of his program of trying to acquaint the people with the needs, problems and possibilities of the highway system. If you'll look real close at the map you may be able to find your own home.

You will notice that this is a map of the "Designated Highway System". The Mississippi Legislature designates those roads in each county which will be a "part of the State Highway System."

If you will read the map's legend you will see two kinds of roads shown:

Federal Aid Primary (Highway 51, Highway 7, Highway 8 and the northwestern end of Highway 35.)

Federal Aid Secondary (South end of Highway 34)

Grenada can well claim the title of "Crossroads of North Mississippi."

For it is well served by primary highways.

New Highway 8 has been completed east and new Highway 7, connecting with Highway 51 from Coffeeville will soon be complete, as the old 8 and old 7 will be covered with with waters of the Grenada Reservoir.

Highway 7 is paved west from Grenada to Leflore and there is construction work in progress on Highway 35 north on Highway 7.

Only Highway 35 south of Highway 7 is on the secondary system. And it is still maintained by Grenada County Board of Supervisors. However, negotiations are now underway between Commissioner Adams and Grenada County supervisors about taking over a part of that road for maintenance.

What is the big highway problem in Grenada County?

The completion of Highway 35 north of Highway 7 has top priority and the eventual improvement of Highway 35 south also is in a top spot.

Actually, Grenada County has fewer highway problems than most of the counties in the Northern District.

Except that the big job of maintenance of the primary roads, particularly on heavily-traveled Highway 51, is a continuing problem. Reconstruction of Highway 51 is already being considered as the heavy traffic, and heavy trucks, wreak great wear daily.

Commissioner Adams, along with the other two commissioners, Mr. Felder Dearman in the Central District and Mr. John Smith of the Southern District, are now proposing a Secondary Road Construction Program similar to the primary program of 20 years ago, if not as large.

The Mississippi Legislature will be asked to approve the issuance of $30,000,000 in bonds for secondary roads; which bond issue can be retired from present gas tax revenues—no increase in the gas tax—provided present revenues are not reduced.

There are more than 700 miles of secondary roads in the Northern District, like Highway 35 in Grenada County, which need building.

It costs an average of $50,000 a mile to grade, drain, bridge and surface these roads, up to Federal Aid standards. Last year the Northern District received about $1,000,000 for secondary roads. You can quickly see that it will take 36 years to build the 700 miles at this rate.

"We need to get started on this Secondary Road program now", Commissioner Adams says.

Anna Elise Roane Winter is the owner of the building being leased for a long period to Al Gully for his enlarged Jitney Jungle store. The owner is Judge Roane's youngest daughter. She now lives in Southern California.

Judge Roane's wagon yard, once occupied a big lot on the corner of Oak and 1st Streets. His estate still owns this property. Wagons, teams and drivers "put up" there for the night following their long trips hauling in cotton from the East.

By and large, the Roane heirs still have all of the property that the Judge left them. I am not too sure about the old farm which now abuts on Grenada Dam a few miles east of Grenada.

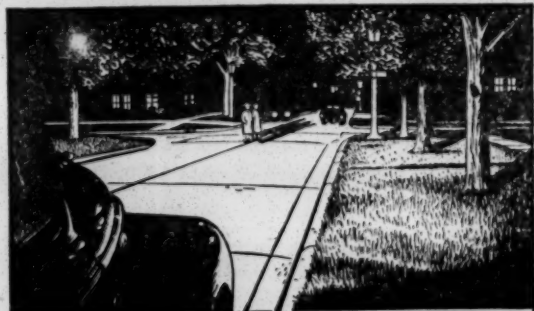

Most of Grenada County has been blessed with beneficent rains recently, though Grenada itself has not been so blessed. The county faces bright prospects for today, for all crops. What will happen to these prospects tomorrow nobody knows.

Billy Hayward was saying the other day that he had a surplus of old corn, approximately 1000 bushels. This was his first knowledge that ANYONE raised ANY corn last year.

If the truth be told, most folks spent a miserable day Saturday, the 4th of July.

CONCRETE STREETS are safer

You may owe your life to the built-in safety of concrete. At night its surface reflects more light, makes pedestrians or obstacles visible farther, helps reduce accidents. Day or night, wet or dry, concrete's gritty surface is uniformly skid-resistant. It grips tires and permits quick stops. Remember, concrete is the safety pavement.

VOTE SATURDAY

On Saturday, July 11th, an election to approve the issuance of $60,000 in bonds will be held in the City of Grenada. The purpose of this bond issue is to provide additional space for Grenada Industries.

75 TO 100 MORE JOBS

By making this addition there will be jobs created for from 75 to 100 more people. This will mean an added payroll of about $200,000 per year in Grenada.

GRENADA DOES NOT PAY A CENT

The $60,000 bond issue will not cost the people of Grenada anything, for the entire amount of the bonds plus interest will be repaid by Grenada Industries in rent for the building. In addition, all maintenance, repairs and insurance on the building will be paid by Grenada Industries.

THIS IS A BARGAIN

Seldom has any city had the opportunity under the BAWI program of getting so many jobs and so large a payroll from so small a bond issue.

EVERYONE SHOULD VOTE

This bond issue requires a three-fifths vote from at least a majority of the qualified voters. This means that if you don't vote, you are in effect voting against the bond issue.

A Vote For Continued Industrial Progress

All-out support of this bond issue means that we can look forward to continued industrial progress in Grenada. Luke-warm support will stand as a sign to the rest of the county that Grenada is not particularly interested in attracting good industries to locate here.

King-Juchheim Vows Said In Church Ceremony Here

The marriage of Miss Betty Jane Juchheim, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Juchheim to Mr. Lee Andrew King, son of Mrs. Betty King was solemnized on Sunday afternoon at the First Baptist Church in Grenada at 4 o'clock, June 28. Rev. John Landrum, pastor, officiated, using the double ring ceremony, before a large and fashionable gathering of relatives and friends.

The church was beautifully decorated with jade palms, plumose fern, Princess baskets filled with white carnations, asters and stock. Lighted white tapers glowed in branched candelabra.

Mrs. John Griffith Hardy, organist and Mrs. D. E. Strain of Greenwood, violinist and J. Y. Smith, vocalist, presented a program of nuptial music.

The bride who entered the church with her father was beautiful in an original wedding gown of crystalline imported Swiss embroidered organza over a blue tulle. The strapless basque was finished with scalloped edge accented with insets of roche.

The cover up Spencer, featured brief sleeves and a decollete heart neck complete with roll collar. Mother of Pearl buttons fastened the basque in front. Detachable fitted gauntlets buttoned from the elbow, ended in calla points over the hands.

The waltz length gathered skirt was worn over a period skirt, and was developed of tier upon tier of exquisite embroidered organza.

Her shoulder length veil was of double tiered French illusion, and fell from a cloche of eyelet trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a white satin Bible surmounted by a white orchid and lilies of the valley with cascading white satin ribbons caught with sprays of lilies of the valley.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Mary Moore Juchheim, as maid of honor, and her niece little Pam Juchheim as flower girl.

Their lovely originals, by Mademoiselle were snow sheer eyelet organza over yellow taffeta, were identical. The bodice of the dress featured low portrait neckline, brief sleeves and circular skirt over starched petticoats. Wide yellow sashes were tied in butterfly bows in the back.

Their headresses were Madonna band of straw lace with tiny veils. Miss Juchheim carried a yellow mallow covered fan shaped bouquet of yellow roses and yellow carnations. Pam scattered flower petals from a small straw basket.

Melvin Bishop served as best man. Groomsmen were Max Juchheim of Grenada and Stells Minyard of Winona.

Mrs. Juchheim wore a handsome blue crepe dress trimmed with blue lace, white accessories and white carnation corsage.

SEEN, HEARD AND TOLD BY THE EDITOR

We cannot but speak of things which we have seen and heard. Acts 4:20

It chronicled the recent visit to Grenada of Rice Lawrence and got it item in type, but Mabel censor- it because I had something about Rice's connection with train- riding in the item, and it was cut at and melted up. It was all true about the train riding, but it is per- haps better to let the dead rest. Any- way, I am regretful that I did not see Rice while he was here.

I imagine it will require at least a week for most of our folks to get over the recent holiday and get back to some mild degree of normalcy.

I kept on recording that "nobody killed at the dangerous 8-51 cross- ing" that the highway department finally took the hint and put a crossing light there and eased a very dangerous situation. I did not cus- sem, or low-rate 'em, just kept on telling about nobody killed there THAT week.

I am still available for a trip to what he calls "God's Country" out about Sabogla, with J. Z. Pryor, but insist that we travel in a Cadilac, befitting the fine place we visit.

Did you ever realize how utterly helpless the average man is when, any of these modern contraptions get out of order? Anyone could fix an old Model-T, but who but a serv- iceman can fix a modern car? Who can fix a radio or television set or a washing machine or an electric washer. Fortunately most of these modern contraptions are practically fool-proof.

Added to the list of young men who are "off" lick and hope never to get "on" again; Carmel Norris of Holcomb. He is a nice, accomodat- ing, courteous young man. His only enemy was lick, and so far, he has conquered that enemy. Keep it up, Carmel.

Johnnie Capuson, Grenada's form- er Capsule Cop, left Millington at the mercy of an unseen enemy over the weekend when he visited in Gre- nada.

Jack Keenum of Cleveland over here to attend the funeral of Jim Nall, took the occasion to pay his dues. Seeing Jack brought to life many memories. Jack was my main road man in Beat 3 when I was supervisor. I employed him AP- TER I was elected. He will tell you today that he was promised no job for his vote. He did not even know that I had him in mind. As a mat- ter of fact, he may have voted for Roy Hayden, my opponent, as far as I knew then and know now. I never asked him. He is a born mech- anic and takes the view that, if man made it, a man can fix it. Jack don't look a day older than when I last saw him many years ago, though Effie, his wife, looks pretty puny, as if she has suffered much. Jack is

COOKING WHITE RICE

This year's record rice supplies offer plenty of this popular cereal food for thrifty new year's meals. Though many kinds of rice are on markets, the most widely used still is plain white rice. It offers generous "energy" value and fortunately goes well with almost any other food that adds the protein, minerals and vitamins it lacks.

Research on white rice cookery at the Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture, shows better, faster, easier and less wasteful ways of preparing rice than many of the old familiar routines.

The following directions may come as a surprise to many cooks:

1. Don't wash rice before cooking if it comes clean from the pack- age. It is less apt to be sticky if not washed before cooking. Bulk rice may need "dry clean- ing"—rubbing in a towel after picking out husks and poor grains. If rice must be washed, use very hot water.

2. Cook rice in as little water as possible to retain more flavor and keep texture firm but ten- der. Rice needs no more than three times its measure of water for cooking—usually less. One cup of uncooked rice makes 3 cups cooked—enough for six servings. For seasoning, allow 1/2 teaspoon salt for each cup of uncooked rice.

3. Boil rice gently in a loosely covered pan. Rough boiling may break grains and cause rice to boil over.

4. If cooked according to above directions, rinsing rice after- wards is unnecessary.

For Fluffy, dry rice with each grain standing separate, boil gently until tender, or boil part time, then let pan stand tightly cov- ered in a warm place so that rice finishes cooking in its own steam.

Boiling Method. Stir 1 cup un- cooked rice into 2 to 2 1/4 cups rapidly boiling salted water. (Use the larger amount if you can't keep your heat very low.) Bring back to boiling, then lower heat until water is just bubbling. Cover loosely and cook slowly 15 minutes. Remove pan from direct heat and let stand 10 to 15 minutes covered tightly. Serve.

Rice that is more moist gener- ally is preferred for patties, croquet- tes or a molded dish. To have it moist but not mushy, cook in a double boiler or bake in a covered dish in the oven.

Double Boiler Method. Stir 1 cup uncooked rice into 1 3/4 cups rapidly boiling salted water in the upper pan over boiling water. Cook, covered tightly about 15 minutes or until tender, stirring occasion- ally for even cooking.

Oven Method. Place 1 cup un- cooked rice with a half teaspoon salt in a baking dish. Pour 2 to 2 1/4 cups boiling water over rice. Cover the dish tightly and bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) about 45 minutes or until rice is tender.

BIG CROP IN MISSISSIPPI

The constant improvement in agricultural methods is bringing a steadily increasing yield of crops in Mississippi... This means more money for our rural population, better standards of living on the farm, a growing demand for more rural telephones.

Since 1945, we've more than quadrupled the number of rural telephones in Mississippi. So far this year we have completed about half of the 100 new rural projects planned for 1953—and several others are nearing completion. We have already provided service for about 2300 of the additional 5000 farm customers we expect to reach in the state this year.

It is a big job... requiring a lot of money, materials and know- how... but you can depend on Southern Bell to keep it moving.

IT'S ALWAYS COOL AT OUR HOUSE

Do you think that it is impos- sible to air condition your home? That only large buildings can make use of this engineering mira- cle?

With summertime around, and the thermometer soaring into the 80's and 90's, everyone wants Per- haps out in the west and middle- west where the air is dry we can live and work in such high tem- peratures and not be greatly af- fected, but in our eastern part of the United States the air is humid most of the time, and consequently we feel extreme in temperature to a high degree.

It was an effort to combat this situation that stimulated the devel- opment of a quite rare and use of air conditioning equipment to maintain the air at its healthful level. There is hardly a restaurant, theatre or public building where the air is not specially treated.

To most of us it means just that the air is colder, but enjoy- ing air conditioning is like going to the theatre. It's observe only the finished product, with much going on behind the scenes that we never see. To "condition" the air, it must be cleaned, dehumid- ified, cooled and circulated.

There are many different sub- stances which injure the air we breathe. The greatest portion of impurities present in city air is composed of carbon particles. Many of these particles of air pol- lution produce harmful physical effects when inhaled over a period of years. Such physical changes would, however, depend on the composition of the particles inhaled. In the average community al- most two tons of dirt and dust fall on each square mile in a year.

The room air conditioner filters out such particles and brings wel- come relief to everyone, particu- larly to asthma and hay fever suf- ferers. The air it brings into the room is cleaned as it comes in, and the air in the room remains clean because the unit fits snugly into the window and enables you to keep all the windows closed in this way you not only shut your home to dirt and heat, but out- door noises are reduced. Your housekeeping tasks are substan- tially cut because dust and dirt particles are not so numerous, and the moisture that makes them stick to furniture and fabrics is removed.

You know how much easier it is to breathe on a crisp, cool day than on a hot, humid one. Your room air conditioner works to re- move excess moisture from the air to make breathing as easy in sul- try August as it is on a clear Oc- tober day in the country. When you come in from hot, grimy city streets your room is comfortably and healthfully cool. The far cor- ners of the room are just as cool as the area around the air con- ditioner. Air is circulated evenly and smoothly around the entire room.

Besides these features, the amazing thing is, that although the room air conditioner is an elec- trically refrigerated unit, it re- quires no building alterations. There are no ducts, pipes, drains or water connections necessary. It is fitted into a window easily and quickly for all-season comfort. It is merely plugged into a con- venient outlet and you have cool, quiet living.

There are several handsome mod- els available so that any decorat- ing scheme can be followed. A special room air conditioner is de- signed for the bedroom, one for the living room, available in tan or ivory. Another model designed for the home or office cools a room up to 485 square feet in size and can be had in tan, ivory, mahogany or blonde veneer. Still another model is a luxurious console. It is the ultimate in room comfort, styl- ed in a modern manner that will be an addition to any interior.

So you see, cool comfort is pos- sible for your home and the op- erational cost is only a few pennies a day.

This Is No Fight On Albert Clark

I am not engaged in any personal fight on Albert Clark, supervisor of the county's pint-size beat, but I am engaged in an effort to get some of the very apparent inequalities in our county's set-up removed. I personally like Albert Clark and probably will go on a long trip with him in the fall.

I don't blame Albert Clark for resisting any changes in his pint-size kingdom out across the river. He has things mighty "soft." Nobody is likely to do anything that would disturb his own soft seat.

Albert has it "good." He has to politic with only a handful of voters - I think only 96 voted in the last election. He don't have to work himself or his crew (a crew paid as well as big as those of other beats) very hard on the FEW hills of roads under his supervision. He is worried with FEW bridges as most of the land left in his beat is on that more or less barren ridge between Yalobusha and Skuna Rivers and such terrain requires few bridges and culverts.

Of all the GOOD conditions Albert has in this set-up, the BEST is yet to be told. He gets as much money to do this little work, as does any other beat in the county.

The foregoing paragraph deserves further words of explanation. Most of the money gasoline users pay works its way to Jackson and MOST of THAT money comes back to Grenada County - its prorata part, that is - and put in a big pot. Money paid for car tags follows the same course and comes back and gets in the SAME pot in the county treasury. This money, I call "car money." Albert gets one one-fifth of the "pot," just as each beat, regardless of size, gets one one-fifth of the total.

The minimum change that we should have in this county set-up is to divide this car money in accordance with the number of miles of road each beat is required to maintain. Merely dividing the whole by 5 is unjust and inequitable. It is the EASY way to do, but not the right way.

The change that I have long advocated is this: REDistrict the county so that each beat would contain substantially equal amounts of roads, population and taxable wealth. I think, just reminding folks of some grant that it would be practically impossible to get equality, but it could be a damsite less UNEQUAL than it is now.

Another change for the better and one perhaps even better than the Whitaker plan of REDistricting is for the county to do away with the "5 counties in 1 small county" system, now in effect, and change to the modern county-unit system of building and maintaining roads. Grenada County is one of the state's smallest counties. It contains about 440 square miles. It is 36 miles long, east and west, and about 16 miles wide, north and south. Yet, so far as roads are concerned, it has been subdivided into 5 counties, each with its own crew, with its own set of road equipment, its own purchasing agent (the supervisor) and its own standard of excellence. What a ridiculous situation!!

Yes, I like Albert Clark personally, and don't blame him for wanting to hold on to his little kingdom out "between the rivers." No sane person wants to give up such a fine set-up that Albert enjoys.

Costs MORE; Get LESS

Customers of the post office department, the little ones, that is, seem to pay more for service and get less returns.

These changes probably are results of inflation, but they are none-the-less noticeable.

For instance: the penny postal card, formerly the world's biggest bargain, costs twice as much: a first class letter once cost two cents, now costs three cents and it looks like it will soon cost four cents. For many years, customers got mail twice a day by carrier; now only once a day.

Tommie Darras, who lives in an incorporated part of Grenada, tells me he has no home delivery. Probably others similarly located have no home delivery of mail.

There is in the works a proposal to raise parcel post rates about 30 percent. Cost of special delivery stamps are up, and so are air mail stamps.

On the whole, services, while not as extensive as formerly, now cost the public more.

I am not kicking much about these things, just reminding folks of some of the things that have happened in the postal service.

On Being Sixty-Four

If you live long enough, you will get to be 64 years of age, like I did on Sunday the 5th of July.

With so many of my old friends gone, I just don't know why the good Lord has let me linger on.

Being 64 reminds me of the late Dr. J. W. Young who not only helped usher me in, but helped usher in the four kids of Mabel and me. My birth occurred at Osberry and so did the birth of all our kids, except that of Whyte Jr.

Next year, if I live, I can get on what they call the "old age pension" to which people 65 and over are eligible. I got ready for that date several years ago when, with the usual difficulty, I got a Birth Certificate.

The way I feel today, I hope I will never retire; that I will perform what I call "work" the last day I live. I have a horror of having to quit what I call "work", of having nothing to do, like many of us did on Saturday, the 4th of July.

Move To Simplify Election Laws

Off hand we don't know how many sets of rules or regulations govern the various elections, primaries and referendums in Mississippi, but there are enough.

Each county has a set of Democratic Executive Committeemen. Each county has a set of election commissioners. Each town and city has another set of election commissioners.

There are regulations governing Democratic primaries of the state. A different set of rules apply when you vote in a general election.

And still another set of regulations apply in a city or town election. And should you vote in a bond election you are governed by still different rules.

Sometimes you need a poll tax receipt to vote. And sometimes you don't. Under certain circumstances you can vote an absentee ballot. The fact that you are qualified to vote in one type election doesn't mean you are qualified to vote in the next election.

We have heard good lawyers express doubt that it was possible to hold an election in Mississippi that was legal in every little detail.

We note with interest that up in Grenada County Representative William Winter is working on legislation to codify the election laws of Mississippi so that possibly all our elections can be held under the same regulations. May his efforts be crowned with success.

-Kemper County Messenger.

"Easy" (Hard) Job

Last week, we decided to get out the GCW on four pages instead of its regular eight pages. Unless we change our mind in the meantime, it will be a long time before we try to get out on four pages again, ever if, as last week, we had mighty few ads.

It is an old, but true newspaper maxim that "it is easier to fill up than to leave out." To "fill up", a country newspaper can always find a lot of free cuts, or can do, as we have done, use blank pages.

It is also a newspaper maxim that you "can't squeeze type." A definite space in the newspaper forms will hold just so many lines of type and NO more. You can't squeeze 'em.

I don't know whether you remember it or not, but, to be able to set in what little reading matter we had, we had to set the stuff on smaller slugs, which got in MORE reading matter in the limited space but gave the whole issue a compressed look.

We tried to get by easy, but it was hard to do so. We were forced to omit Ted Robinson's crap, also the International Sunday School Lesson and a devil of a lot of stuff that should have been in the paper.

I note The Soluda (S. C.) Sentinel, trying to get out on 4 pages, left out its mast head. We had a hard time doing this kind of "easy(?)" job.

SEEN, HEARD & TOLD BY THE EDITOR

We cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard. Acts 4:20

Miss Burns of Pineville, La., sister inherited the GCW from her mother. She was up in this country last week to attend a big 4th of July to-do for members of the Burns family near Leverette and make a special trip by Grenada to pay up and to see an old employer, B. B. Payne for whom she once worked in the telephone exchange in Alexandria, La.

Judge Roane, whose old store building is now being decapitated to help form a Greater Junior Jungle Store for Al Gully, was one of Grenada's many rugged individuals of the past. Judge Roane bet on the sun for accurate time and thought he was quite efficient in "reading the sun", for time. One day, his watch had stopped. He got the watch out, glanced at the sun, then at his watch, alternately, until he set his watch, then remarked, "It is later than I thought it was."

Judge Roane used to defend Negroes charged with crime. If acquitted and if unable to pay the lawyer fee, the Negro was sent to the Judge's Tipple farm to work out the fee. One Negro is said to have said he preferred Parchman, as he would get away from Parchman some sweet day, inferring he would never get away from Tipple. This is just a tale a little boy heard and is not, necessarily true.

Speaking of Roane reminds me that Bob Townes, who married a Roane, hobbled up town to mix and mingle with his friends one day last week.

HAVEN IN THE NIGHT

The sorrow of illness, the grief of death, the joy of a newborn child are poignant realities that all experience at one time or another. These experiences are encountered every day by your doctor, who, when needed, is like a haven in the night. He has learned to console, to encourage, to sympathize, to rejoice. Your grief is his sorrow, your happiness his job well done.

You cannot practice medicine or compound prescriptions without developing deep feeling for and interest in those who entrust their health to you. Only the best is

"FROSTY FRUIT PIE"

FILLING

MAKE 9-in. STIR-N-ROLL Pie Shell
(recipe below)

BRING TO A BOIL 1 1/2 cups crushed pineapple or applesauce, orange juice, grape juice, prune juice or pineapple juice or apricot nectar.

STIR UNTIL DISSOLVED 1 pkg. lemon-flavored gelatin

MIX IN 1/2 to 1 cup sugar (depending on sweetness of fruit)

COOL UNTIL ALMOST STIFF

WHIP UNTIL STIFF *1 cup chilled undiluted CARNATION
EVAPORATED MILK

WITH 1 tbsp. lemon juice

Pour on top of the gelatin mixture. Beat in slowly with rotary beater or electric mixer at low speed. Pour into baked pie shell.
Chill at least 1 hour. Garnish with shaved chocolate, if desired.

*To whip Carnation, simply chill in refrigerator tray until soft ice crystals form around edges (15-20 minutes).

LEMON OR LIME VARIATION

Use 1 cup boiling water and 1/4 cup lime or lemon juice (fresh, bottled or canned). Lime or lemon-flavored gelatin may be used.

SUCCESS TIP: For a fluffy high pie be sure the gelatin mixture is almost stiff and that the CARNATION EVAPORATED MILK is whipped until it stands in stiff peaks.

9-inch STIR-N-ROLL PIE SHELL

(Liquid Shortening)

PREHEAT OVEN TO 475°F. (very hot)

MIX TOGETHER 1 1/2 cups sifted GOLD MEDAL
FLOUR
**1 tsp. salt

POUR INTO ONE MEASURING CUP
(but don't stir together) 1/2 cup cooking (salad) oil such as Wesson
3 tbsp. cold whole milk (or
1 tbsp. undiluted CARNATION
EVAPORATED MILK and
2 tbsp. cold water)

THEN POUR ALL AT ONCE INTO FLOUR.

Stir until mixed. Press with hands into smooth ball. Flatten slightly. Place between 2 sheets of waxed paper (12-in. square).
Roll out gently until circle reaches edges of paper. (Waxed paper will not slip while rolling pastry if table top under paper is slightly damp.) Peel off top paper. If dough tears, mend without moistening by pressing edges together... or by pressing a scrap of pastry tightly over tear. Lift paper and pastry by top corners; they will cling together. Place paper-side-up in 9-in. pie pan. Carefully peel off paper. Gently ease and fit pastry into pan. Build up high fluted edge. Prick the dough thoroughly with fork.

Bake 8 to 10 minutes in very hot oven (475°F.).

**If you use Gold Medal Self-Rising Flour (sold in parts of the South), omit salt and bake in hot oven (450°F.).
